2.6.2 Attainment of Programme Outcomes, Programme Specific Outcomes and Course Outcomes are evaluated by the institution

Method of attainment :

PO, PSO, CO is informed to the students through the introductory lectures. Teachers are also involved in group meetings regarding attainment of outcomes of the programs and courses.

Specific Outcome (SO) is calculated through some specific strategies followed by the course conductors/teachers. Some of which are through internal assessment of the students through seminars and presentations on the specific political topics. Small researches in the form of seminars provided a door of wide thinking, reading, writing, and presenting on political concepts, theories, issues and institutions. It gave a theory and practical based teaching- learning process in masters degree.

An analysis of the annual result is a method followed. Attainment is defined at the four levels through the percentage obtained by the students at term end exams.

35 to 40 - Average

Above 50 - Satisfactory

Another method followed to attain specific outcome is teacher's feedback. It helps in completing the whole circle of teaching learning process and to attain specific goals in given in the outcome.
