The Department of Biotechnology, Sant Gadge Baba Amravati University, Amravati takes the feedback from students and alumni regarding curriculum. The feedback is usually collected through google form, since it is very convenient. Since the alumni are well placed in industries and institutes, and are well connected with department, they provide very valuable suggestions and feedback to faculty of the department directly as well as formally when feedback is collected. Their feedback has always given due weightage by faculty members while teaching as well as supervising research project of the students. The Feedback from Industry has been also collected to take the account of suitability of curriculum and preparedness of students and discussed with all faculty members. The faculty members take care of suggestions and incorporate the latest developments while teaching. These topics if not included in the syllabus are suggested to the students to incorporate in their seminars.
